1. GOVERNMENT. The Archaeological Institute of America was founded in Boston in 1879 and incorporated by Act of Congress, approved May 26, 1906, with Washington as its headquarters.

2. PURPOSE. Its purpose is to promote archaeological research, to increase and diffuse archaeological knowledge, to stimulate the love of art, and to contribute to the higher culture of the country.

3. SCHOOLS. It has founded the American Schools in Athens, Rome, and Jerusalem, and the School of American Archaeology in Santa Fe. It has also departments of Mediæval and Renaissance Studies and Colonial and National Art.

4. EXCAVATIONS. It has conducted excavations in Asia Minor, Greece, Cyrene, the Southwestern States, and Central America.

5. PUBLICATIONS. It publishes and distributes free to members a monthly illustrated magazine, ART AND ARCHAEOLOGY, and on request, a quarterly periodical, the American Journal of Archaeology and the Bulletin of the Archaeological Institute, a Year Book.

6. LECTURES. The Institute maintains lecture circuits in the United States and Canada, thus bringing regularly to its members several times a year the latest and most vital information in the fields of archaeology and art.

7. FINANCES. The permanent funds of the Institute are in charge of a Board of Investment consisting of Charles Hallam Keep, William Sloane, Otto T. Bannard, and James Speyer, New York; W. K. Bixby, St. Louis; James B. Forgan, Chicago; Sir Edmund Walker, Toronto; and Sir James Aikins, Winnipeg.

8. MEMBERSHIP. The Institute is composed of Affiliated Societies, located in leading cities of the United States and Canada.

For further information apply to the Secretary of the local society, or to

The General Secretary.
